1.1 History & Background

Dalit Bahujan Resource Centre (DBRC) is a resource centre working with the Dalit Bahujan and most vulnerable Communities with the special focus on women and children in in South India in general and particularly in Andhra Pradesh and Telangana. DBRC closely works with community leaders, professionals, academicians, thematic experts, social researchers and community-based organizations who are working for Dalit Bahujan empowerment nearly for the last two decades. It believes in human dignity, sharing of resources and ensuring the Dalit Bahujan stake in the governance and their improved participation in the development processes.

The emergence of the DBRC is a constituent of the Dalit Bahujan movement spearheaded by various Dalit activists and it emerged out of the outcome of atrocities in Karamchedu and Tsundur in the region and the strong felt-need for Dalit assertive process in Andhra Pradesh. Though the community assertive initiatives at large led to conceptual clarity, cultural changes, and responsive cadre for the movement, there was dearth in various aspects such as alliance building, socio-political research, policy analysis, intellectual discourse, advocacy and policy influencing initiatives.

In this backdrop, Dalit Bahujan Resource Centre was established in 1992 as a community-based movement for promotion and assertion of self-respect and dignity of Dalit Bahujan communities and their social, economical and cultural rights. It focused on creating awareness and articulation on the Dalit Bahujan ideology and promotion of strong grass root leaders to take forward the vision and mission of DBRC. It has become quintessence of Dalit movement and created a tremendous impact among various stakeholders to emulate in using assertion and identity as instruments in claiming the Constitutional rights of the oppressed. It is also very successful in establishing alliances and collaborations with various people’s organizations, civil society organisations (CSOs), media etc. However, the issues confronted by Dalit Bahujan are multifaceted and hence there is a dire need for strategic interventions and concerted efforts by various key stakeholders.

From then, DBRC has been focusing its work in over 500 villages of 10 districts of Andhra Pradesh and Telangana States.

CHAPTER - 4
INTERNAL CONTROL SYSTEM

4.1 Transactions

a. Expenditure and Payments

No expenditure will be reimbursed unless it is approved by the concerned Approved Authority. As far as possible, the originator of request for payment (either in cash or otherwise) will not be allowed to authorize the payment. In other words, the approving authority must be different from the requesting authority. The accounts department would disburse the requested advance / expenses / expenditure on approval from the sanctioning authority, whether it be in cash or otherwise. All payments made must have appropriate supports attached.

The expenditure bills must be verified by the appropriate authority before approval. While approving the expenditure, the approving authority must review the relevant bills, invoices and other supporting’s, as may be relevant. Once, the expenditure is approved for payment, the approver is responsible in case of any dispute about the expenditure. A rubber stamp stating PAID will be stamped when the respective payment is made.

DBRC ensures reimbursement of all expenditure through banking channels only. However, the current limit for cash payment / reimbursement is Rs 5,000.00 (Rupees five thousand only). In other words, payments for bills/ invoices exceeding Rs 5,000.00 should be made through proper banking channels only. However, in exceptional circumstances, where it is not possible to pay/reimburse through banking channels, then the DBRC would pay/reimburse maximum up to Rs 10,000.00. The “exceptional circumstances” are to be decided on case to case basis, and is at the discretion of the approving authority. All expenses to be rounded off to the nearest rupee i.e. if less than 50 paisa the amount would be the lower rupee and if more than 50 paisa the amount would be higher rupee.

b. Approving Expenditure and Authority

The expenditure before approval by the approving authority must be checked for TDS, CST/EST and ledger entry. This should be specified in the requisition slip while signing the same for issue of Cheque. (TDS is organizations responsibility, and failure to comply with it attracts heavy penalties. TDS can be reclaimed by the person or company after filing their returns.) The approving authority will check for valid CST/ BST, any exception to this shall be the responsibility of the approver.

c. Cheque / Demand Drafts

All Cheque books must be kept in the safe of the Organization. The Finance Manager shall be responsible for the same. Both the signatories should put their full signatures. No cheque should be signed without furnishing any details. In the case of sending a cheque or Demand Draft through post, a Registered Post / Regular courier should be opted. Local cheques should be handed over to trusted persons / regular courier. All cheques must be crossed on the top left corner of the cheque by putting words A/C Payee only. Any bearer cheques issued would be considered as cash payment only.

d. Issuing of Cheques

No cheque will be issued without the requisition slip signed by the approving authority stating mode of payment either in cash / DD / Cheque. (Since accounts department does not have any authority to make any payments in any form to anyone, every request or order for payment in whichever form must be authorized by the authorities, this helps in pin pointing the responsibility of making payments. Any payments made by accounts department without obtaining proper authorization will be deemed as personal responsibility of the person making payment in which ever form.

All payments shall be made through Bank Cheques only including office administration expenses such as telephone and rent etc.

4.2 Cash Withdrawal and Cash Management

a. Cash Withdrawals

Cash Withdrawals for Petty Cash are done when the cash balances less than Rs 5000-00 (Rupees five thousand only). Cash withdrawals are made for programmes after the Accounts department receives an estimate from the Project Coordinators at least two working days in advance. Cash shall be withdrawn only when necessary i.e. after checking the cash balance and the request for such cash payments. All cash must be withdrawn from the bank by ‘Self Cheque’ only. This cheque must have a stamp bearing the withdrawing persons signature attested by the signatories. Under no circumstances, cash should be withdrawn in the name of the person.

b. Cash Maintenance

Petty cashbook is maintained & cash is closed at the end of every working day. The physical cash would be checked by Accountant and will be reported to the Finance Manager at the end of the day. The cash will thereafter be kept in the security safe of the institution. Cash will not be disbursed after 5:00 PM every day as the cash will be required to be counted and sealed and kept in the security safe of the Institution. In case of emergency payments required after office hours, the same should be stamped and logged in separate logbook.
This can be brought to the notice of Chief Functionary as and when required.

c. Cash in Transit

The Office Assistant deputed for this purpose is responsible for withdrawing cash from the bank. After withdrawing the cash, he is required to report back to the office directly. He / She is required to carry a secure briefcase / bag for this purpose. If he /she is in the possession of more than Rs. 10,000-00 he is required to hire an Auto rickshaw for returning directly back to the office. If the amount is more than one lakh rupees an authorized person should accompany him in the organization’s vehicle.

4.3 Operational Procedures

a. Vouchers

- Vouchers will be prepared for all transactions, even those accompanied with a cash memo or a bill. A Paid stamp will be used on a cash memo or voucher so as to know that money has been paid to the concerned person. The cash memo or bill must be stapled twice on to the voucher on the left-hand side. Where supports are more, bigger staples must be used. The vouchers must be punched deep inside the margin and also ensuring that the punch holes are evenly aligned. The vouchers must be stored in a box file as they are better protected. Also, it must be ensured that the files are not overloaded with too many vouchers.

- Labeling the files showing details such as organization’s name and address, financial year / month, numbering of vouchers and project or location name. All vouchers will be numbered continuously during the 6 months.

- Old vouchers will be stored for at least ten years for Income Tax purposes. Voucher narrations should be crisp and must cover all-important facts such as names of the payee and the payer. What services or goods were purchased, if the payments are recurring payments the relevant month should be included, if the payment is for a particular event or work, the date and place must be included and finally the purpose of the payment must be included.

- Any voucher without supporting (or proper) bills is to be accompanied by a Declaration in a Support Voucher by the concerned person prior to approval of the sanctioning authority. The declaration should be accompanied with the full details regarding date, nature of expense, amount incurred etc. as possible with respect to the expense incurred.

- Voucher above Rs.500-00 would be not accepted. In case of expenses below Rs.500-00, the expenses are to be consolidated against one voucher only. This practice would be followed as far as possible and will be at the discretion of the approving authority. Submission of the vouchers related to recurring expenses would be done on regular basis.

c. Bank Reconciliation

Bank reconciliation has to be done because there is a difference in the bank balance and on any specific date as shown in the cashbook or ledger and the passbook on the same date. The difference may occur due to some cheque has not reached the bank for payment or the difference may be due to a dishonored cheque or the bank may not have credited some deposit to your account. Apart from these, small charges like collection charges, bank charges etc. levied by the bank from time to time and bank interests, which are credited twice a year. Sometimes totaling errors may also take place by our bankers hence bank reconciliation is necessary. The Bank Reconciliation Statement is prepared by the Accountant which is further verified by the Finance Manager of the organization.

The step by step procedure for preparing BRS are provided below:

- Note down the closing balance as per ledger.
- From this deduct any bank charges or cheques that have been dishonored. This will give us a corrected ledger balance.
- Finally, we reconcile the passbook balance.
- Note down the balance as per Passbook.
- To this balance add those cheques which have been deposited but not been cleared. This will be found as un-ticked items on the Debit side of the ledger.
- Then deduct the cheques, which you have issued but have not reached the bank. These will appear as un-ticked items on the credit side of the ledger.
- The resulting balance should be the same as the corrected ledger balance.
- After reconciling with the bank, one must look into the items that appear on the list. Pass entries in the ledger for bank charges, interest etc.

4.4 Financial Management Meetings

Financial management meetings would be held thrice every year i.e. after every four months. The meetings would essentially be to review the financial proceedings and to take corrective actions as may be necessary. The meetings would be chaired by the Treasurer. Minutes of these meetings were to be recorded and maintained in a financial management file and copies of the same would be forwarded to the board members for their views/ comments. All correspondences / suggestions should be documented and maintained in the Financial Management file by the treasurer.

a. Correspondence

All correspondences related to financial matters will be the responsibility of person entrusted by the Chief Functionary.

All correspondence with the Donor Agencies will be the prime responsibility of the Chief Functionary/ Person entrusted by Chief Functionary.
